TOP OF THE POPS! TOP OF THE POPS! TOP OF THE POPS! TOP OF THE POPS!

On November 26, 1980 Brian arrived at BBC1 Studios in London, England along with Stray Cats bandmates Slim Jim Phantom and Lee Rocker. The purpose of the trio's visit was to tape their first television appearance on the top UK music chart program, Top Of The Pops.

What you see above is the cardboard name plate which was placed on the band's dressing room door. The date penned in above the typed name was written by Stray Cats' publicist Bobby Startup after the band left the studio and arrived back at their flat.

The song the guys performed was their first single, "Runaway Boys" which had been released earlier in the month and peaked on the British charts in the #9 position.

Stray Cats rocked Top Of The Pops again on February 5, 1981 when they brought a mimed version of their second single, "Rock This Town" into the homes of an appreciative English audience who eventually took the sophomore track to the same chart slot occupied by it's predecessor.
